Eric Bruell Distinguished Service Award

The Eric Bruell Distinguished Service Award was created in 1992 to honor individuals within the fragrance industry for a lifetime of enduring leadership, service, and support. The recipient of this prestigious annual award will be announced as part of the dinner program.

About the Speaker:

Eric Denzenhall began his career in the White House Office of Communications during the Reagan Presidency. Prior to starting his own firm, Eric worked at an international public relations agency and a political consulting firm. He is a frequent guest commentator on national public affairs programs and is widely quoted in leading news publications. Eric's first book, Nail 'em, Confronting High-Profile Attacks on Celebrities and Business, pioneered new techniques for understanding and defusing crises.
