FMA is proud to welcome industry expert Ann Gottlieb. Gottlieb began her career in the cosmetic industry at Revlon and later joined the Estee Lauder Company. There, she learned the art, science, and business of fragrance under the personal tutelage of Mrs. Estee Lauder, herself. As her reputation grew and the demand for her unique expertise increased, she took an entrepreneurial leap and established Ann Gottlieb Associates in 1983 with a commitment to providing the best in specialized olfactive and product development service in the industry. That commitment, according to the National Geographic book, Perfume, has resulted in fine fragrance sales of “more than a billion dollars” per year.
